

The Inner Game of Executive Leadership

A Keynote

We are living through an unprecedented time of globalization, technological advancement, and workplace demographics, with more generations and cultures working side-by-side (and now virtually) than at any other time in our history. Most of us are struggling to keep pace. And, if we are paying attention, we have very real and deep concerns about how to stay relevant as entire industries disappear and brand-new ways of living and working are rapidly adopted.

- How can we best lead ourselves in such unprecedented and dynamic times?
- How must we now engage others and lead others and our organizations?

This keynote session discusses the real frontier of leadership development: our mind, as our inner game always runs our performance out there. This session will address research on the kind of leadership our world needs now (what it looks like and what it will require of each of us). It will also provide an opportunity for attendees to make the information personal and actionable. Attendees can expect to leave with greater awareness and clarity of how to advance their own inner game for greater leadership effectiveness and corresponding business success. This session can be delivered in person or in a virtual format.

Custom-tailored to your event, audience, and the success outcomes your keynote must deliver. This keynote can be delivered in person or in virtual format.

"It was an honor to have Susanne open our first business session on Necker Island. She captured her audience within seconds, following in the footsteps of fellow leaders standing in the Temple House. She led us into a positive place of growth and strength, where we could develop, change, and inspire each other through her guidance. The impact of Susanne's leadership was felt not just during our time together but has been a continued lesson for attendees since. Susanne's work is a passion that can be felt through her emotional intelligence, warmth, and care in all that she does." – Fiona Chalk, Founder, Forming Impact

"Over the last 6 years, it has been my pleasure to curate the school's TEDx event. I have had the luxury of working with notable authors, actors, intellectuals, and entrepreneurs of all kinds. Susanne was one of the best I have had the pleasure of collaborating with. She is conscientious in her approach both in terms of developing the deliverables but perhaps more important, in the care she takes to ensure her messaging is relevant and resonates with her audience. She brings her ebullient spirit to bear on the subject and works diligently to deliver an authentic experience. I think she's aces, as they said in the 20s, and wouldn't hesitate to recommend her as a speaker or a consultant." – Ian McPherson, Director of Communications and Marketing, Brentwood College School

"Through her unique and genuine approach, it felt like Susanne was talking with us – not to us. She posed questions to the audience of 300 that made us all reach deep inside and uncover the truth. Susanne is a brilliant speaker and a gracious human being." – Patricia Kelly, Gala of Grace Event Director

"I had the distinct pleasure of having Susanne as one of the keynote speakers for our Top Talent Summit. Susanne's ability to connect with delegates during her talk is second to none. Delegates found Susanne's session not only inspiring but actionable. If you're looking for a captivating speaker for your conference, look no further." – Shahid Wazed, HR National Award Winner, Recruitment Automation Consultant
